MASSIMO CIVELLO, master tailor, has been forced to retire because of failing health. "The little man has become a fixture along Solano. We shall miss him."

PERALTA JUNIOR College board (Cheryl Kleinhammer is one member of the board) will meet in Albany Monday. The meeting will convene at 8 p.m. at Cornell School library. You're invited to attend.

AS ALBANY CITY COUNCIL met in session Monday night, rain from the ceiling (loosened by recent rains) was flaking off and falling at the feet of Mayor George Hein.

AN ALBANY WOMAN is terribly proud of her new wig. She decided not to wear it the other morning when she went shopping in the rain. As she left the house, she admonished her husband, "Don't be running your cotton-pickin' fingers through my hair while I'm gone!"

SOME DATES to circle on your calendar: Feb. 4, 1:30 p.m., Cornell auditorium, PTA Founders Day . . . 8 p.m., meeting with Planner Herman Ruth, Council chambers; Saturday, Feb. 6, AHS gym, March of Dimes-Legion basketball game; Friday, Jan. 22, AHS Band Booster fish fry; Thursday, March 18, March of Dimes fashion show, Albany Theatre.

Mrs. Elmer Coble Dies Thursday

Her many friends were saddened last week upon the sudden death of Mrs. Elmer (Thelma) Coble, Thursday morning in a Berkeley hospital.

Private family services were conducted at Ellis-Olson Mortuary Saturday by the Rev. James Comfort Smith of St. John's Presbyterian church in Berkeley, of which Mrs. Coble was a member.

Scores of friends will remember Mrs. Coble at the community-wide retirement dinner for her husband, long-time Albany YMCA secretary, at the Mira Vista Country Club last Sept. 29. A check for $1,000 from citizens of the community made it possible for the couple to return for a vacation to her native Hawaii, where they had met while both were in Y work.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by daughters, Mrs. Shirley Owen of Arkansas and Barbara Mary Larson of Concord; grandchildren, Catherine and Debra Larson, Pamela and Steven Owen, and sisters, Melva Stockwell of Lafayette and Olive Fedder of Florida.

The family home is at 6814 Fairmount Ave., El Cerrito. Mrs. Coble was a member of Hestia Club of Berkeley and had worked as secretary of the Berkeley Y for 20 years.

Contributions in her memory may be made to the Albany or Berkeley YMCA.

Joltin' Joe Dagna Captures Cig Thief

If you're planning to snatch anything at Dagna's Market, you'd better be more fleet-footed than the owner, Joe Dagna.

Saturday evening, a clerk reported to Joe that a man had just gone out the door without paying for many cartons of cigarettes in a couple of bags.

Joe darted out the door, chased the man to Marin and Carmel, where he was holding him with the help of an unidentified assistant when police arrived.

Police report the culprit was a 49-year-old Oakland man, who had helped himself to 22 cartons of cigarettes.

Planner Ruth Shows How To Improve City

Planner Herman Ruth, acting as a municipal psychiatrist, Thursday night put Albany on the couch and told her what was wrong with her.

Before a packed audience, most of whom wanted to discuss high rise apartments, Ruth explained that Albany suffers from competition which has not been faced realistically, deterioration and confused construction.

He presented plans for proposed shopping districts on both Solano and San Pablo Avenues, which would offer concentrations of businesses with adequate parking. On San Pablo, the district would be bounded by San Pablo, Solano, Jackson and Buchanan, a three-block, 15 acre site.

The Solano Avenue district would encompass Safeway and the Bank of America plus a section across the street and slightly west. Underground utilities, improved street lighting, sign controls and beautification projects were included as recommended in planning for the future.

When a man in the audience asked what was wrong with leaving Albany as it is now, Ruth answered that the needless loss of trade and resulting sales tax drops have hurt much of the overall community. He said this can and should be corrected.

Members of the audience who were attending their first meeting made it necessary for Ruth and Administrative Officer James B. Turner to recover much of the ground covered in a series of meetings conducted over a period of about a year.

Mayor George Hein deplored previous lack of attendance and urged everyone to plan to attend the meeting Thursday night, Feb. 4, when Ruth will present sketches of a combined concept requested by the City Council. Ruth said Thursday night that the Council's idea is feasible.

Dimes Volunteers Invited To Birth Defects Center

March of Dimes volunteers from throughout Northern California have been invited to see where the dimes go Thursday, Jan. 14, from 2 to 4 p.m., when the staff of the Dimes-supported Birth Defects Center at Children's Hospital of the East Bay will hold open house.

The center, now in its third year of successful operation, utilizes the team approach in diagnosis and treatment of birth defects victims because multiple problems often are involved.

Arnold Nurcock, coordinator, said. Instead of going from specialist to specialist, parents find almost all types of care, coordinated by a pediatrician, under one roof at Children's Hospital.

A demonstration of the team approach, progress report, discussion of plans for the future and a case history are on the agenda for the open house, which will be concluded with tours and refreshments.

Children's Hospital of the East Bay is at 51st and Grove in Oakland.

Marin School Hard Time Party Tuesday

The annual pot luck dinner of Marin school PTA had an appropriate theme for this flat-pocket-book time of the year.

When members and guests gathered in the cafeteria last night, everyone was attired in his fanciest "rags" for a hard time party. Chips, dips and punch were offered at 6:30 p.m., followed by dinner at 7.

Entertainment included hobo duets by two well-known Albany personalities, Mrs. John (Dorothy) Larimer and Chris Van Eckhardt, "We're a Couple of Swells" and "Side by Side," comedy skit by teachers, and dancing directed by Mr. and Mrs. Buz Nehaus.

Guests included members of the school board and Marin school faculty.

Council To Remove Limits On Freeway Business Signs

Albany City Council Monday night took first steps to remove limitations on the size of business signs along the freeway.

City Attorney Larry Saler was instructed to prepare an ordinance removing the 100-square-foot limit on signs. Council made it clear that the action does not relax Albany's billboard restrictions. In conversation, Councilmen said Golden Gate Fields and other businesses along the freeway should be allowed to have large attractive signs indicating their locations.

The matter of the city entering into a joint exercise of powers agreement between the Albany and county library systems was held over until another work session can be held with the library board to clarify wording in the contract. Saler reported such a contract would be legal under the charter.

Local Ministers Set Programs At Four Churches

A cooperative program to observe together world-wide church unity has been set up by four local ministers, Father John Blackledge of St. Alban's Episcopal church; Father Patrick Finnegan, St. Ambrose Catholic church; Rev. Claude Friesen of Albany Methodist and Rev. Glen Hofstetter of Westminster Presbyterian.

The program at each church will include a series of prayers for Christian unity, typical worship service and social-educational session.

The schedule of services, to which people of all denominations are invited from 7:30 to 9 p.m., includes: Sunday, Jan. 17, St. Ambrose, Gilman and Hearst, Berkeley; Saturday, Jan. 23, Westminster, Eighth and Hearst, Berkeley; Thursday, Jan. 21, St. Alban's Curtis and Washington, Albany, and Tuesday, Jan. 19, Albany Methodist, Marin and Stannage. Upon completion of 20-week instruction, members will be prepared to join one of the many square dance clubs in the area. For information call Kim Davison at the Albany Community Center, 526-9555.

Following a 7 p.m. work session with a representative of the district attorney regarding entering into an agreement with the county creating an economic opportunity agency, Council voted 4-1 to authorize Mayor George Hein to enter into such an agreement. Councilman Joel Parker voted no.

Upon recommendation of Administrative Officer James B. Turner, George Wannop, who has reached retirement age, was hired for another year. Councilmen discussed the lack of pension plan for city employees, agreed that something must be done. On the motion of Lewis Howell, two resolutions were approved: one retaining Wannop; the other, commending him for 30 years of dedicated service to the city.

An application of the Gold Eagle for an alcoholic beverage license was referred to Chief of Police Ralph Jensen.

Council approved a refund for an electrical permit which was not used; filed "a whole raft" of letters from other cities regarding action of Albany City Council on the UC demonstrations (none were opposed); reaffirmed the stand taken twice previously opposing the San Luis drain, as proposed;

Approved 5-0 resolutions ratifying Clark's appointment of members to Goals and Objectives committee, repealing ordinance 64-114, and adjourning commending the fine attendance at last Thursday's meeting with Planner Ruth and urging a large attendance at the next meeting Feb. 4.

SENIOR CITIZENS
846 Masonic
By Minnie Ingraham
The New Year started off with a "bang" for the Senior Citizens at 846 Masonic Ave., the first order of business being the installation of new officers as follows:
President, Tena Gregory; vice president, Gertrude Garden; secretary, Celia Chilton; treasurer, Minnie Ingraham; Chaplain, Nora Healey; hostess, Sally Johnston; members - at large, Ethel Macquart, Greg Chamberlain.
Installing officer was Fire Chief Gerald Browne, who followed his official duties with a most interesting talk on early Albany, or Ocean View as it was then known. After a slight pause for refreshments, Captain McSheehy began to record for posterity the officers of the group. An interval for picture taking and then a delightful performance by Mr. George Campbell on his concertina that soon had everyone joining in vocally and tapping toes in accompaniment.
New projects are constantly being initiated by this group with the aim of providing community service of some kind. Trips are being lined up for the enjoyment of the members with Cinerama, Chinatown, Hidden Acres, and Guide Dogs for the Blind among the earliest.
Any resident of Albany or vicinity, 50 years of age or over, is welcome to join the group who meet on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Sunday. For additional information a cheery and pleasant voice is on the other end of the telephone at LA 6-1601.
